GRICULTURAL, &C.

South Carolina-Report on Her Agricultural Condition and Prospects.

Mr. Theo. C. Peters, of the United States Agricultural Department, has made a report to the Commissioner on the Agricultural condition of the South. The following is the section of the report which treats of this State Bring well situated for the cultivation of rice and cotton, and having a surplus of labor, this State has devoted its agriculture to the cultivation of these two merchantable products, to the neglect of all her other agricultural resources. In proportion to area she has but little more poor soil than North Carolina, while in her rice lands and sea islands she has much that is superior.

grown, as reported, 353,412 bales; how much of this was sea island and how much upland does not appear, while the quantity planted is in excess of last year. It is safe to estimate that not over one-half of the land planted in 1859 and 1860 is now being worked, while through the region known as "Sherman's track," the same causes which compelled the abandonment or fields after they had been planted and partially worked in North Carolins has produced like results, only to a larger extent here. Some have been compelled to abandon entirely and at once, while others have discharged their hands and teams, and worked with their families in order to make some corn and a little cotion to save them from future starvation.

While much relief has come to many of these people, but a small portion have been reveyance to find the suffering or to send relief when found. If the history of the past and Gape Cod-a case of "nausea marina." present suffering of these people in the Carolinas, Georgia, portions of Alabama, and Mississippi is ever fully written, an amount of human suffering will be disclosed that has had no parallel in the Union. Even if the season be most propitous, there will yet be, until another to comfort her husband, but he was not to be

It will hardly be credited that whole families ing in this world have had no meat for weeks; that they have had to The couple left the store, vowing vengeance the sick could be fed, and have substituted roots and berns gathered from the fields and woods. In one instance a husband had traveled some sixty miles to a relative, who had loaned him a cow then in milk, and there was joy in that family when the cow came. They had tasted no food for weeks but roots and herbs, and were weak and emaniated, but the milk restored their vigor. The man also brought a small parcel; of seed corn, and the cow was harnessed to the plough and a small parch of land was prepared for a future crop.

This family consisted of father, mother, and five children. To the question, "Why don't you work?" "O, sir, tell us where we can get even a peck of corn or a pound of pork, and we will most gladly work, but everybody is like we are." And this is the condition of Corn .- More has been planted this year than last. In many instances but little cotton is planted, and the energies of the farm devoted to corn. Yet they are all so badly in debt that an effort is made to grow all the cotton possible. In the census the corn crop is put down at 15,065,606 bushels. It will fall far below that this year. I doubt if it reaches half. To furnish any permanent relief it should be double. The plant is well cultivated and looks promising a great would reconsist a trace shaped

Wheat.-Only 1,285,631 bushels are reported by the census for this State. For the lack of seed and labor but a small breadth was sovn last year; it is being harvested in good condition and yields well, but so pressing are the wants of the people, that but a little will be left for seed. In many instances the green wheat and rye have been out up and fed to the mules to enable the farmers to work their growing Cotton and corn crops!

Oats.-But a small crop, only 936,974 bushelf, were made, as reported by the ccusus; it is, therefore, of small consequence, though an effort has been made this year to sow considerable, but the scarcity of the seed and the poverty of the people have prevented anything like the usual breadth being put in,

Rice.—The census reported 119,100,528 pounds of hulled or merchantable rice. The great destruction of the expensive fixtures on the rice plantations by the war has nearly broken up the cultivation; added to this is the want of capital and of labor, and the cultivation of a plantation is the exception rather than the rule, nor will the vast rice fields be again cultivated till a new system of labor is established; resort must be had to the Chinese. If proper efforts are made I have no doubt abundant labor of that kind could be procured at San Francisco. And the Chinaman once domiciled on these plantations, there will be no further want for labor, and cheap labor, too, for there is scarcely any place on this continent where a Chinaman can live so cheap as on the rice planta-

Tobacco.-This crop has been considered of small consequence in this State, the census only reporting 104,912 pounds. Whether there be really difficulties of soil or climate, or both, in the way of successful and profitable cultivation, I did not learn. As a part of the State is on the same range of the Blue Ridge with Virginia and North Carolina, there seems no good reasons why it cannot be grown as well as in those States.

HUMOROUS.

Soda Water.

A few days since, a gentleman from the country and his recently esponsed wife, visited the city for the purpose of seeing the "sights." While strolling through the streets, they thought they would indulge in the luxury of a glass of soda water. Entering an apothecary store, they made known their wants:

"What kind of syrup?" asked the man of

"Wall, I guess I'll take some of the syrup of squills," answered the countryman.

"We do not use that kind," said the clerk. "I know you don't bekase its costly. I will have the syrup of squills."

The druggist remonstrated, but all to no purpose. His customer would have squills, re-

"All the other syrups is made of sugar, emon drops, sarsapariller, and sich things to humbug folks." The squills were procured and our hero requested to pour out for himself; and he did so, taking a bountiful quantity, in order to get his money's worth.

The heroine being asked how she would prefer hers, raised herself to the supposed dignity of a city belle, and replied : "Reckon as how I'll try mine without any squills, or any sweetnin'." In passing their own opinions on the drinks, they gave anything but a favorable decision. In a few moments our hero began to experience a new internal sensation.

"Jerusalem!" he exclaimed, "what's the matter with my stomach?" and before an answer could be returned, he was four miles off

"I'm pisened!" he moaned. "Only married three days, and got to die! Pump it out of me somebody! I'll give a doctor fifty cents to save my life!"

The wife fell on her knees, and attempted planting and another harvest, untold misery checked; and not until the last of the squills and starvation! HEAD TAHD had left kim did he entertain a hope of remain-but one meal a day, and that of pounded corn against the man who told them to call for simils
